The 4th International Conference on Supplemental Instruction

Malmö, Sweden

May 24-26, 2006

“Crossing Borders with Collaborative Learning”

*Sponsored by:
The International Center for Supplemental Instruction
at The University of Missouri-Kansas City, USA, and Lund University, Lund, Sweden*

Invitation

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of The International Center for Supplemental Instruction at the University of Missouri - Kansas City and Lund University, it is my pleasure to invite you to Malmö, Sweden for a celebration of SI. This is our first international conference outside the United States. The conference theme, Crossing Borders with Collaborative Learning, appropriately describes the intent of this, the fourth International Conference on Supplemental Instruction.

The conference, as always, will provide a unique opportunity for delegates to hear from national and international experts about the latest SI research on student success, motivation, and retention. Our keynote speakers, concurrent presentations, and conference activities will provide you with great opportunities to network and to learn from colleagues from around the world about successful practices in SI. I am looking forward to seeing old friends and meeting new ones.

Kind regards,
 Dr. Glen Jacobs
 Director
 International Center for Supplemental Instruction

Professor Angieszka Bron

Dr. Agnieszka Bron

Professor Agnieszka Bron holds the Chair of Education at the Department of Education, Stockholm University. Between 1999-2002, she was a Chair in Adult Education, with a special interest in European Dimension at Ruhr-Universität Bochum, Germany.

Since 2003, she has worked as an adjunct professor at the Department of Leadership and Management at the Swedish National Defense University College, Stockholm. She has international experience in higher education and has been a visiting professor at the SUNY Stony Brook, USA (1981), at the OISE in Toronto, Canada (1982), and at the University of Warwick, UK (1995). She has published extensively on subjects that include: 1) biographical studies (ethnicity and gender), 2) comparative studies (blue-collar workers' access to post-secondary education, nontraditional students in Sweden), and 3) active citizenship and learning. She has been involved in several European projects: TSER IV project University adult access policies and practices across the European Union and their consequences for participation by nontraditional adults, a Socrates project concerning Assessment of Prior Experiential Learning, and a Grundtvig project Learning in Higher Education: Improving Practice for Nontraditional Student. Recently, she worked on the project on Promoting Reflective Independent Learning in Higher Education. She served as an editor for one of the volumes of the Bochum Studies in International Adult Education. Professor Bron, is among others, a cofounder of the European Society for Research on the Education of Adults (1991), a convener of the Active Democratic Citizenship and Adult Learning network, and a member of the international advisory board for Studies in the Education of Adults, UK.

Professor Norman Jackson

Norman Jackson

Professor Norman Jackson is Professor of Higher Education and Director of the University of Surrey Center for Excellence in Professional Training and Education (SCEPTRE). The Center is part of a new initiative in England aimed at enhancing the student experience, building knowledge to improve teaching and learning, and helping faculty develop professional expertise. SCEPTRE's work is focused on the preparation of students for employment and supports their development while they are learning in the work place. The intention is to develop coaching models and peer networks to enable students who have experienced work-based learning to support students who are about to experience this type of learning. Prior to this appointment, Professor Jackson was a Senior Advisor in the Higher Education Academy Programs Division (formerly Learning and Teaching Support Network Generic Center) where he led research and development work on curriculum, personal development planning (a policy led initiative to encourage students to engage in action planning and learning through post-action reflective processes), and measurement of student learning. The main focus in this curriculum work has been on developing understanding of the meaning of creativity in higher education and ways in which students' creative development is supported and encouraged. Some of this work will be published by Routledge-Falmer in 2006, Developing Creativity in Higher Education: An Imaginative Curriculum.

If you were to describe me and my work over the last decade, the best analogy is that of a broker bringing people, ideas and resources together to engage, stimulate, encourage and help faculty, managers and policy makers develop and advance their thinking and practice.

Conference Workshops

The conference starts on Wednesday with the following three workshops (complimentary):

Wednesday, May 24th

Session 1 : An Overview of SI

1:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Glen Jacobs, D. Ed.

International Director of SI, Center for Academic Development, University of Missouri, Kansas City

F. Kim Wilcox, Ph.D.

National SI Training Coordinator, Center for Academic Development, University of Missouri, Kansas City

New to Supplemental Instruction? Interested in a refresher course on the basic principles of SI? This workshop will provide an overview of the SI model and its theoretical underpinnings. We will also examine the results of national research that suggest that students who attend SI sessions have higher achievement scores and graduate at higher rates.

Session 2 : SI and the Student Perspective

1:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m.

SI/PASS Leaders

Lund University, Lund, Sweden, and University of Manchester, Manchester, UK

SI is for and about students. While this idea is hardly new, supervisors may not be aware of how SI leaders actually view the program. What is SI like from the perspective of the SI leaders' daily experience? What messages would they like to pass on to supervisors and coordinators? What suggestions do they have for improving the program? This workshop will be facilitated by SI leaders and is based on two exceptionally successful student conferences between Lund University, Sweden, and The University of Manchester, UK.

In a true SI manner, this session will deal with integral aspects of the program which may not have been considered by supervisors or teachers. Completely designed by students, it has a powerful message that is definitely worth hearing.

Session 3 : University SI Leaders and Working Life

3:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Jane Munro

Senior Recruitment Manager - North & Midlands Region, PricewaterhouseCoopers, UK

Adele Cunningham

Graduate Recruitment Manager, PricewaterhouseCoopers, UK

Does the impact of SI stop when a leader graduates and leaves the university for employment? Do the skills he or she develops become redundant? This workshop will be led by PricewaterhouseCoopers (a professional services firm and leading graduate recruiter in the UK). It will explore the application and relevance of an SI leader's skills to his/her working life after graduation. Are these skills valued or recognized outside the university? By working with employers, how can these skills be enhanced to make leaders more attractive and competent in the labor market? Highlighting their strong connection with the PASS/SI scheme at the University of Manchester, UK, PwC will discuss the value they place on these skills and why they believe in offering specialist leadership courses exclusively to leaders, regardless of their areas/majors.

Activities

Wednesday Evening, May 24th

Conference Reception Malmö Hilton

After the start of the conference on Wednesday, a special dinner has been planned at the conference hotel. And not just any dinner—when in Sweden, do as the Swedes do—have a giant smorgasbord! A smorgasbord is a form of Scandinavian buffet where you can find delicacies to suit every palate. You will find delectable, freshly caught salmon, served in many different ways—baked, smoked, and cured. Although Sweden is known for its 364 different herring recipes, you will only get to sample 5 or 6 of them. For the meat lovers among you, how about some Swedish ham or Swedish meatballs? There will also be, of course, various types of breads and salads. All this with a glass of beer or wine. Students from the Malmö Music Conservatory will provide you with soft, pleasant, background music to help you fully wind down.

Thursday Evening, May 25th

A Medieval Dinner in Lund

Lund was founded circa 990, CE, and is very proud of its long history and importance. During the Middle Ages, it was an important center both religiously (home of an archbishop) and culturally. Although its prosperity and importance diminished after the Reformation in the 16th Century, it regained importance when the University was founded in 1666.

After the day's work, you will be taken by bus to Lund where you will have a short city tour. You will then be taken by your hosts, Daniel and Hanna, to Kulturen, an open-air museum that dates back to the turn of the last century and has collection of houses and buildings that go back as far as the 15th Century.

Once inside the open-air museum, it takes no effort at all to imagine yourself transported to the 15th or 16th Century. Here you will be invited to partake in a medieval buffet dinner (you may even dress in your best medieval costume). The theme, the four elements, is typical for the Middle Ages. Each table will represent one of these elements with food, drink, and decorations following these themes. Jesters, fire swallowers, strolling musicians and dancers will wander around, just as they would have done at a true medieval banquet. At the end of the evening, busses will transport you back to the 21st Century.

Denmark and Southern Sweden Excursion

To round off your days in Malmö, you can visit Denmark and southern Sweden on either a one-day trip or a two-day visit with a night in a quaint Danish fishing town. Sign up now; spaces are limited.

Two-Day Tour

Our bus will leave the hotel in Malmö in the morning and cross over to Copenhagen on the spectacular Öresund Bridge. Here you will be given a guided city tour where you will see many of the attractions of this wonderful city: Hans Christian Andersen Square, the city hall, Tivoli, the canals, the palaces, the little mermaid and much more. You will have a few hours to breathe in the special atmosphere of Copenhagen with its small, crooked streets and pastel-colored buildings, go shopping, stroll down 'the walking street', eat lunch and bask in the spring sunshine. In the early afternoon, the bus will take you along the coast of Denmark heading north. You will have the Öresund on the right with the Swedish coast clearly visible all the way, and on the left you will discover wonderful houses in a potpourri of Danish architecture—everything from small cottages with thatched roofs to magnificent, stately homes. After a coffee break in Helsingør, you will continue up around the tip of Zealand passing through quaint, untouched fishing villages until you arrive at Gilleleje, your destination for the first day. You will stay in a 3/4-star hotel, and will have plenty of time to stroll along the beach or down the winding roads.

The next morning, after a hearty breakfast buffet, you return to Helsingør (Elsinore), where you can see Kronborg, Hamlet's castle, and visit a small 18th-century castle called Marienlyst. There will be an opportunity to wander around the town's center and see the picturesque, winding streets with their typically Danish houses. You might also want to try a cup of Danish coffee. Once aboard the bus, you will be driven to the harbor and board a ferry. The crossing to Sweden and Helsingborg takes about 20 minutes, but you will have time to get a typical open-faced shrimp sandwich or some other Nordic delicacy in the restaurant.

From Helsingborg, the tour will continue down the coast road towards Lund. Once in Lund, you will have an opportunity to walk around the medieval center, visit the cathedral, and soak in the atmosphere of this student town. The tour ends in Malmö in the late afternoon.

One-Day Tour

This is similar to the two-day tour, with slightly less time in Copenhagen. After you visit the town of Helsingør, you will take the ferry from Helsingør to Helsingborg, ride down the coast, and return to Malmö via Lund in the late afternoon.

Pricing

The price for the two-day trip will be $250 (USD) per person. A non-refundable deposit of $90 is required by February 15th. The price includes all transportation, one night in a double room at a 3/4-star hotel (single rooms are available for an additional $55 USD) with breakfast buffet included, and an authorized guide specialized in Danish and Swedish history and culture. Admission fees are also included in the price. The price for the one-day trip will be $110 (USD) per person. A non-refundable deposit of $50 is required by February 15th. To enable us to reserve the best hotels and tour times, please register as soon as possible. The number of places is limited, sign up now and guarantee that you will have the pleasure of experiencing this wonderful corner of Scandinavia. You may register for the excursion when you register for the conference on the conference registration form. If you would like to register for the excursion separately from the conference, or have additional questions, please email to Niklas.Hillbom@klass.lu.se, the trip arranger.

Planning Information

Malmö

Malmö, a city of about 270,000 people in the very south of Sweden, boasts many attractions—among other things, museums, shops, boutiques and department stores, an exciting and varied choice of good restaurants and cafes, parks and canals, old historical buildings and new, daring architecture like the Turning Torso. From its earliest beginnings in the 13th Century, Malmö has been a busy trading and maritime hub. It was also one of the major Swedish shipbuilding centers for 150 years, from 1840-1990. Located where it is, Malmö is the gateway from the continent to the Scandinavian Peninsula. Thanks to the demands and technology of the modern world, the region has been reunited with Denmark since 2000 by a magnificent bridge that soars over the Öre Sound and connects the two countries. The connection is 16 km/10 miles long, and has a 7.8-km/4.9-mile bridge and a 4-km/2.4-mile tunnel for both vehicle traffic and trains. More than just the Sound itself has been bridged—the Öre Sound area has been united into a single cultural, educational, and economic region which encompasses Copenhagen in Denmark and the southernmost province of Sweden, (Scania, including Malmö and Lund). There is a total population of 2.8 million people, 1.7 in greater Copenhagen and 1.1 in Scania.

The Malmö Hilton Hotel

The conference venue is the Hilton Hotel in the heart of Malmö. Newly renovated and well appointed, the Hilton in the area called ‘The Triangle’ is an ideal place for the 2006 SI conference. Hotel rates are 1280 SEK (Swedish Krona) per night. This is the equivalent to $165 – $195 USD (depending on the value of the dollar). The cost for a double room is 1480 SEK ($197 dollars at today’s rate) per night. The room rate includes daily breakfast.

Traveling to Malmö

If you are arriving by plane, fly to Copenhagen airport, Kastrup. At the airport, from the arrivals hall, you will see signs to the train. Buy your tickets to Malmö in the middle of the arrivals hall (you can pay with all credit cards, with Euros, Danish or Swedish crowns and probably US dollars). Go down to track 1, in the direction of Malmö. The trains run every 20 minutes. The train will cross the Sound on the new bridge and arrive at Malmö Central Station about 23 minutes later. (Note: you will get off the train at Malmö Central, the second stop after the bridge, NOT the first stop at Malmö Syd/South). Once in Malmö, you can take a taxi, a bus, or even walk to the hotel if you want some exercise. For anyone coming from other Scandinavian countries, you can also fly to Malmö airport, Sturup, and take the airport bus into Malmö.

Lund

Just 18 km/11.5 miles northeast of Malmö is Lund, which was an important medieval center. Lund University, founded in 1666, is the second oldest university in Sweden, after Uppsala. Today, Lund is known as a university town but is also famous for its excellent teaching hospital, and several large industries. The city center has buildings going back to the 15th century. However, the city is by no means only for historians—the many shops, cafes, the night life, student activities, music and events provide something for everyone—the students, the Lundians, and the tourists. All rub elbows in friendly harmony. You can easily visit Lund by train or by bus. The trip takes only 15 minutes.

Copenhagen

Copenhagen is the capital of Denmark and home to about 33% of the country’s total population of 5.3 million. There is so much to see and do in Copenhagen: Tivoli, the museums, the Little Mermaid, the palaces, the walking street, the quaint, pastel-painted houses and buildings, the harbor with its picturesque cafes and boats, the boutiques, and so much more—the atmosphere alone makes Copenhagen well worth a visit.

Conference Registration Fee:

The $500 (early, Feb. 15th) or $550 (regular) registration fee includes: workshops on Wednesday; all conference sessions; lunch on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday (Awards Luncheon); Wednesday evening reception/social; Thursday Medieval Dinner; and refreshment breaks.

Weather

The average temperature in late May is 60-70° F or 15-21 C.

Currency

Swedish Crowns (SEK). Also accepted in the area: all major credit and debit cards, Euros, and U.S. Dollars (for some venues).

SI Workshops Kansas City

SI Supervisor Workshops

January 8-10    March 12-14    May 17-19
August 6-8    September 10-12    November 5-7

The National Center for Supplemental Instruction at the Center for Academic Development offers six SI Supervisor Workshops annually in Kansas City. The training focuses on the following topics: procedures for selecting SI courses and SI leaders; evaluation and funding of the program; ongoing training and supervision of SI leaders; theoretical frameworks underlying the SI model; and effective learning strategies and SI session activities. Attendees will also participate in SI simulations. Those who complete the SI Supervisor Workshop will receive reproducible SI Supervisor and SI Leader manuals and a certificate of completion. Please contact the Continuing Education Coordinator, Jennifer Carnicom, at (816) 235-1174 for information or to make credit card payments. A registration form is available on the next page and on-line: www.umkc.edu/cad/si

Workshop Location: Intercontinental Hotel Kansas City, 401 Ward Parkway, Kansas City, Missouri

How to Train SI Leaders Effectively Workshop

August 17-18, 2006

This workshop will show the trained SI Supervisor how better to train SI leaders by observing how the Campus SI staff at the International Center for SI trains their leaders. The majority of the workshop will be spent observing the actual training of UMKC SI leaders, although there will be breakout sessions for participants to discuss and debrief their observations with each other and with UMKC SI staff. This workshop is geared primarily to SI staff who already have been trained as SI supervisors. Those who are not yet familiar with the SI model and the learning theory behind it will not find the workshop as useful. The workshop will now be offered each January and August, coinciding with the training of UMKC SI leaders. Please contact Sandra Zerger at (816) 235-1166 or at zergers@umkc.edu for more information. Registration forms are available on-line: www.umkc.edu/cad/si

Workshop Location: On the UMKC campus or nearby site (816-235-1166).

Hotel: The Intercontinental Hotel Kansas City, 401 Ward Parkway, Kansas City, Missouri is Kansas City's finest four-star hotel. It offers single or double rooms for $133.00 (plus tax) per night. The Intercontinental Hotel is approximately one mile west of the UMKC campus. Be sure to indicate that you will be attending the UMKC SI Workshop to receive the quoted room rate. For reservations, contact the hotel directly at (816) 756-1500 or fax (816) 531-1483. Hotel reservations must be confirmed three weeks prior to the workshop to assure availability and the reduced rate. Located in the premiere Kansas City shopping district of the Country Club Plaza, the Intercontinental Hotel is within walking distance of the Nelson Atkins Museum of Art, over 100 restaurants, theaters, and night life attractions.

Driving Directions: From Kansas City International Airport: Take I-29 South to I-35 south to Southwest Trafficway (exit left). Stay straight on Southwest Trafficway (street turns into Belleview Avenue) to Ward Parkway. Left on Ward Parkway to 401 Ward Parkway.

Airport Ground Transportation: KCI Shuttle (816) 243-5000 runs every 30 minutes and one-way tickets are $16 ($27 round trip). You may purchase tickets in the terminal. With a six-hour notice, the Quicksilver Airport Service (913) 262-0905 will pick you up at your arrival gate for $30.50 one-way. Additional passengers are $7.50 each. Cab fares typically range from $40.00 to $50.
