Photo Workshop

NEW

This will be a field workshop with emphasis on macro photography and garden photography. We will have several instructors from Crick Camera available so that the student to instructor ratio is low. This workshop will include a box lunch. You may bring digital or film cameras and you should bring a tripod. Bill is the owner of Crick Camera Shop and has been in photography for 34 years. He has taught several workshops on photography and basic Photoshop through the shop.

Summer Sushi

Learn to make Sushi at home from cooking and seasoning the rice to slicing the finished rolls. We'll include Sashimi (sliced raw fish) for the not so squeamish and vegan options. Discover all the special accoutrements that make Sushi memorable. Of course we'll eat the results. Recipes provided. Zoe is an artist at large whose favorite mediums include cooking, gardening/landscaping and stone masonry.

Understanding & Then Changing the Media's Tune

NEW

The U.S. media greatly influence the public's view of girls, women and people of color. The workshop, based on the new book on diversity, "Discovering the Real America: Toward a More Perfect Union," will deconstruct the media to clearly show the effect that news, sports, entertainment and other programming have on the image and life's outcomes for girls, women and people of color. The session will show how the news media have radically influenced women's, Hispanics' and African Americans' presidential campaigns. It will show what Sens. Hillary Clinton and Barack Obama are up against in their bids for the Oval Office. The workshop also will expose how the language and images the media continually use perpetually affect women's rights, civil rights and the public's view of them. Lastly, people attending the session will learn how they can change the media's tune.
